

GREETINGS FROM CBL

FALL 2022 NEWSLETTER

Community-Based Learning Program

NEW COMMUNITY-BASED LEARNING FACULTY:

Spring 2022

- Bethany McFann
- Tammy Minor
- Chris Key

Fall 2022

- Alexandra Bright
- Lisa Muto
- Marie Cummings
- Ricky Weible
- Amanda Thompson-Abbott
- Dan Chen
- Jackie Fannin
- Carline Waugh
- Margaret McLaughlin
- Kyle Dyer
- Marianna Linz

CURRENT CBL COURSE LISTINGS W/ FACULTY:

- CD 370L-102: Field Experience: Speech & Language (Sandra Kemper)
- JMC 432: AD-PR Video Production (Tijah Bumgarner)
- NUR 219: Health Promotion Through Lifespan (Bethany McFann)

SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENT!

Congratulations to Assistant Professor Bethany McFann for teaching her first CBL course this Fall. NUR 219 and their work in the community has proved to be a great success!

WAY TO GO TIJAH BUMGARNER!

Tijah Bumgarner presented during the Fall 2022 Trace Tuesday event. She shared information regarding her experience teaching a community-based learning course and the positive outcomes for both students and local community partners. The Advertising/Public Relations Video Productions course allowed students to gather real-world experience while creating professional videos for local community organizations.

CBL IMPACT NUMBERS:

- Number of students enrolled in CBL courses - 74
- Estimated number of CBL engagement hours - 1240

www.marshall.edu/cbl

CURRENT HAPPENINGS:

- NUR 219 - Health Promotion Through Lifespan

Nursing students have been working with the Huntington City Mission to assess the needs of the community. Based on the results of assessments, the students were asked to choose health and wellness topics and create educational materials that were presented at a local health fair.

INFORMATION ABOUT CBL OPTION FOR INDIVIDUAL STUDENTS:

Do you have an exceptional student? Consider CBL option for a student or group of students instead of the entire class. Contact us for more information www.marshall.edu/ctl/community-engagement/cbl

OUR CONTACT INFORMATION:

Sandra Kemper:

- 304-696-3577
- kempers@marshall.edu

Lindsey Bellomy:

- cbl@marshall.edu

Center for Teaching and Learning
One John Marshall Drive
Huntington, WV 25755

