

Cultural Artifacts Come To Life

Come hear Marshall University graduate and Smithsonian anthropologist Emily Cain

Thursday, March 29

Student workshop

“Engaging with Collections: An Introduction to Research Methodology”

11 am – 12:45 pm | Basement of Old Main (B14)

The workshop will provide a general introduction to engaging with ethnological collections as primary resources in research.

Public lecture

“Collections and Communities: Facilitating Connections through Material Culture”

5:00 - 6:30 pm | Drinko 402

This lecture explores how museum professionals and researchers can think creatively to help collections reveal themselves as dynamic, living pieces of their cultural environments.

.....

Emily Cain is a 2013 Marshall anthropology graduate now serving as Cultural Heritage Consultant, Department of Anthropology, Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History

For the workshop, pre-registration is requested by Monday, March 26, by contacting Dr. Nicholas Freidin at freidin@marshall.edu.

Sponsored by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology Department in the College of Liberal Arts
For more information, contact Dr. Brian Hoey at hoey@marshall.edu, 304-696-3747

