BFA IN FINE ARTS: VISUAL ARTS FIBERS

Fibers concentrates on the exploration of fibers as a means of individual expression, and exploration of sculptural, architectural, and functional possibilities in two and three-dimensional work. Students learn fundamental techniques such as weaving, dyeing, sewing, pattern making, textile printing, and fiber sculpture. Through the projects, students gain critical thinking, problem solving, history, and contemporary art practice. Fibers courses incorporate both traditional and contemporary methods of textile products and an interdisciplinary approach among other media as well as technology in the productions.
